Filtered vs. Unfiltered Access:

Your wireless authentication system will use this information to direct you to the proper internet access point. Internet access is filtered for all users by default. Our filter prohibits access to sites containing images that may be offensive. As no filtering device is completely effective, you may still be able to access material which you

You can confirm that you are connected if you see a check mark next to BostonPublicLibrary and the WiFi symbol in the status bar.

You may also double-check your IP configuration by navigating to Settings > Wi-Fi and taping the blue arrow. Make sure DHCP is selected.
