

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

Meeting of the Trustees as a Corporation and Administrative Agency
Tuesday, March 15, 2022 at 8:30 a.m. via Zoom

DRAFT MINUTES

A Meeting of the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston as a Corporation and Administrative Agency was held via Zoom on March 15, 2022 at 8:30 a.m. via Zoom.

Present at the meeting were: Chair, Priscilla H. Douglas and Vice-Chair Evelyn Arana-Ortiz and Trustees: Navjeet Bal, Joe Berman, Ben Bradlee, Linda Dorcena Forry, John Hailer, Joyce Linehan, Senator Michael Rush, Representative Chynah Tyler, and Christian Westra. Trustees Zamawa Arenas, Cheryl Cronin, and Jeff Hawkins were absent (noted: John Hailer joined after roll call was taken). Also present were: David Leonard, President, Pamela Carver, Clerk of the Board, along with BPL staff and members of the public.

Chair Priscilla H. Douglas called the meeting to order at 8:34 a.m. and began by reading the Trustees reaffirmation statement. She made brief welcoming remarks and thanked all for their support and for being present. A roll call was taken and determined there was a quorum. The meeting minutes from January 18, 2022 were approved via a roll call vote. Members of the public were reminded that the meeting was being recorded and to sign up for Public Comment by 9:00 a.m.

Mr. Leonard was asked for his President's report and began by noting two key staffing changes. He acknowledged Caroline Driscoll's work as legal advisor at the BPL for the past four years. She will transition into a new position within the City's Law Office as the Ethics Advisor for the City of Boston. The BPL was assigned a new Assistant Corporation Counsel, Jaclyn Munson who will assist the BPL with any legal matters. Ms. Driscoll will remain involved to shepherd any larger BPL topics that are still outstanding.

Mr. Leonard then introduced Roudnie Celestin, the new Equity Coordinator/Program Officer. Ms. Celestin previously worked in the City of Boston's Neighborhood Services Department. Ms. Celestin thanked all for the warm welcome and noted her excitement to continue the equity and inclusion work at the Library.

Mr. Leonard continued with general updates. March 5, 2022 was a milestone day for the BPL regarding the pandemic. The BPL returned to Saturday service. It was also the first day that the mask mandate was relaxed. For now, the guidance is recommended use of masks, but they are not required. Mr. Leonard discussed a few incidents in recent months. There were four anti-mask protests that interrupted service. The BPL acted quickly, and those individuals involved had been trespassed for violating of the Appropriate Library Use Policy. Additionally, there was an attempt to vandalize the Maya Angelou bust. The bust had been sent for preservation work. He noted that the matter was still under police investigation.

Mr. Leonard continued they were in continued dialogue with City colleagues concerning offering additional services. Continuing to move towards adding a gradual return to full operating hours and services. Vacancy levels have impacted our capacity more so than covid concerns at this point. Look to see a combination of virtual, in-person, and hybrid programming in the months ahead.

Ms. Ellen Donaghey, Chief Financial Officer reviewed the FY23 Budget Submission. She explained it was a baseline for maintenance requests as well as external funding (also known as Trustee funds) projections.

There are several components that make up the budget request, including several policy documents. The city budget includes permanent employees, overtime, unemployment, workers compensation, building repairs and service equipment costs. Other costs included contracted services such as security, funds designated to be given to other entities (earmarks), facility inspections, pest control services, and other items. The total budget was $42,744,436 which was a 1.2% increase from FY22 or roughly $500,000.

Ms. Donaghey explained that the BPL is a City department and a separate 501(c)3 nonprofit. The City budget pays for most routine costs, such as the majority of staffing, half the collections budget and infrastructure costs such as utilities and maintenance. The Trustee funds pay for all the special things the library does – the programming, literacy funds, community outreach, often bibliocycles, equipment used by public and staff, and costs associated with updating branch furniture, etc.

Ms. Donaghey explained the External budget represent hundreds of underling funds and so is an estimate of next year's costs. These funds include monies from six various resources, including the Affiliates, several forms of state aid, Trust Fund spending, and enterprise money from special events. The FY23 budget was $9,426,621 which was relatively level with the year prior (a slight difference of $31,122). At the May meeting the Trustees will be asked for an approval vote for the overall FY23 budget once it is published by the Mayor.

Mr. Leonard reviewed the FY23 Capital Project requests. Immediate work ahead was completing the Rare Books and Manuscripts Department renovation which was anticipated to reopen later in 2022. Other projects included the Faneuil Branch renovation which was under construction and reopening in 2023. The McKim Fire Panel was slated to be replaced and was currently in design phase. The Codman Square Branch was in its programming study which was completing in April 2022. Other projects included Central Library façade study and repairs, the Chinatown Branch design and fit out, and the Fields Corner Branch design and construction.

Mr. Leonard noted some projects that were in dialogue with the City regarding moving forward to next phase included Research Collections Preservation and Storage, the McKim Master Plan, Egleston Square Branch design, and Uphams Corner and West End Branch design and fit out. Three projects were funded in previous years but awaiting city capacity to begin them. They included the North End, South End, and South Boston programming studies.

Mr. Leonard concluded that there were two new project requests for FY23 for the Connolly and Hyde Park Branch improvements.

There was some discussion regarding equity with the RFP process on the capital projects.

Next, Michael Colford, Director of Library Services reviewed the Reach numbers from June 2021-January 2022 to give insight into the data usage since the return to service in comparison to pre-pandemic. He explained that Reach is a combined measure of five categories: number of patrons attending programs, visitors, circulation, wireless sessions, and computer sessions. The numbers reflect that we had a slow start back in June 2021. There was a peak with the return of college students in the fall and a slight dip with the Omicron variant surge in early winter. The BPL is still only at 50% of our Reach numbers to where they were prior to the pandemic. He reviewed the Reach charts that reflected each branch location specifically and pointed out some anomalies. There were significant trends of seeing higher digital downloads of eBooks and audiobooks for circulation. He noted that more than half of the locations had over a 50% increase in visitor numbers in recent months which was a promising sign. The wireless sessions were up reflecting the free Wi-Fi zones and outdoor seeing areas added to branches were a successful investment. Computer usage was still low possibly due to the mask mandate but anticipated these numbers to increase each month.

Evelyn Arana-Ortiz reviewed the Finance and Audit Committee votes. There was a proposal for the Kirstein Business Library and Innovation Center to enclose their eleven alcove areas with Kirstein trust funds. The bid was anticipated to be over $100,000 and to be back in spring. She explained the vote was to delegate approval for this award of contract to the Finance and Audit Committee.

With no questions, a motion was duly made, seconded, and voted via a roll call vote,

VOTED: “that, the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston recommend delegating approval of the contract award for the Kirstein Business Library and Innovation Center glass enclosure to the Finance and Audit Committee.”

Ms. Arana-Ortiz noted that the Finance and Audit Committee was recommending an extension for the McKim Catering contract for The Catered Affair by a period of twelve months to October 31, 2023, to allow for rebooking cancelled events during the pandemic and for a smoother transition period should a new vendor is chosen for this catering RFP which was about to go out to bid.

A motion was duly made, seconded, and voted via a roll call vote,

VOTED: “that, the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston extend the Catering and McKim restaurant Contract with the Catered Affair, 70 Ledgewood Place, Rockland, MA 02370 by a period of twelve months to October 31, 2023.”

Ms. Arana- Ortiz thought prudent to invite NEPC to update the Trustees on the BPL investments due to the ongoing crisis in Russia and the Ukraine.

Mr. Sebastian Grzejka, Principal of NEPC, reviewed an executive summary of the investment portfolio. NEPC did not recommend any changes to the current allocation. Mr. Grzejka noted that the long-term performance was strong on both an absolute and relative basis. January’s performance was impacted by recent market volatility; however, active management of the portfolio kept exposure to Russian securities to a minimum. He noted that the BPL asset allocations were very diversified and fixed income assets have shown strong returns. Mr. Grzejka explained the impacts that regional impacts can have generally on volatility, and they will monitor it on an ongoing basis and suggest any recommendations for reallocation as needed in the future.

Ms. Douglas called for New Business. Ms. Arana-Ortiz asked for the board to think about how they will be meeting in the upcoming year with the public. She suggested they discuss at a future meeting. Joe Berman added that The Associates of the BPL would be hosting their annual “Literary Lights” gala in person on April 10, 2022, and more information could be found at The Associates website.

Ms. Douglas called for Public Comment.

Paula Coar noted she had been advocating for the name of the Roxbury branch to be “Nubian Square Library”. She added that they would be asking for Mayor Wu’s support. The black and brown community voted for the area to be named Nubian Square and want the library to be changed to Nubian Square Library and will continue to advocate for this.

Ms. Douglas thanked Ms. Coar for her comments. She explained that the library administration has fully briefed the Mayor’s office on the history of the name change from “Dudley” to “Roxbury” branch. The Trustees consider this a closed matter and are supportive of the Library administration’s continued reference to the branch as the Roxbury Branch Library in Nubian Square.

Marie Firmin, lifelong Roxbury resident and former teacher in the BPS system, commented that she wanted the name changed to Nubian Square Library. She understood that the Trustees consider this a closed matter but does not feel this is a closed matter for them. She believed that the name represented their history and culture and wanted to see it represented like other cultures. She noted it would be pursued despite the Trustees consideration of it being a closed matter. She thanked the Trustees for the work they do and noted that she learned a lot from the meeting.

With no additional business the meeting was adjourned at 10:12 am.

Respectfully submitted,

Pamela Carver,
Clerk of the Board of Trustees

Boston Public Library
FY22 Accomplishments Document
Executive summary

FY22 was the year of the pivot. To continue providing the best hybrid public service to our patrons, the BPL simultaneously began to reopen its doors for service and programming while continuing to lay the groundwork for a fully reopened BPL system. This involved facing challenges of staffing engendered by the Great Resignation, managing through ongoing shifts in COVID-related protocols, and rebuilding an in-person work culture after 18 months of remote work.

Returning to in-person service has meant implementation of critical technology plans, preparations for the return of our Special Collections to public use, staffing positions that offer critical human service related functions, while continuing the work of making the Boston Public Library a more equitable, diverse, and inclusive institution.

Economic empowerment

Economic empowerment was – and continues to be – a key priority for the BPL.

To ensure that Boston residents are able to come out of the pandemic with the skills and tools they need to return to work, the Kirstein Business Library and Innovation Center (KBLIC) continued to cultivate relationships with partner organizations to offer recurring, quality mentorship, consultations, and programming.

Building an infrastructure to better serve the community

This year saw the creation of an entirely new department at the BPL: Community Learning, which will coordinate the delivery of needed social services across the system; instruction in literacy and English as a second language; citizenship resources; basic education and skill building; health and wellness; and news literacy.

The Library Services division was also able to create key staff positions in order to better service our patrons with the highest needs. These include a Nutritional Literacy Coordinator; a volunteer coordinator, a literacy instructor, a library social worker and a mobile and outreach services supervisor, along with a career counselor and workforce development librarian.

Increasing access to our special collections

Construction is now complete on the $15.7 million Rare Books and Manuscripts renovation project and the beautiful new spaces for staff and public are being prepared for reopening. As of the end of April, approximately 275,000 bound volumes and over 2,000 linear feet of manuscripts have been returned from offsite storage and reshelfed on over 7 miles of newly constructed stacks. The renovation features state-of-the art environmental controls, fire suppression, security, and storage conditions.

In addition, new projects and studies are underway to further establish intellectual control over our collections, which is the first step to making them searchable and accessible to the public for the first time.

Enriching our neighborhoods

In October, the BPL held a community celebration of the recently renovated Roxbury Branch. The Roxbury Branch in Nubian Square (formerly Dudley) underwent a $17.2 million, 27,000 square foot renovation that began in November 2017 and was completed in October 2020.

Branches are holding their annual distribution of seed kits to the public, and this year also saw the BPL's first ever Spice Bank Collective, in collaboration with the Greater Boston Food Bank (GBFB). Patrons are encouraged to bring unopened spices and dried herbs to their local participating branch. By providing access to spices, the BPL hopes to offer a way to maintain a sense of cultural identity and family traditions, encourage creative and nutritious cooking, and promote the abundant cultural make up that is found in Massachusetts.

Working to close the digital divide

In partnership with the Mayor's Office of New Urban Mechanics and the City of Boston's Environment Department, the BPL's outdoor WiFi zones at the East Boston, Egleston Square, Codman Square, Brighton, Mattapan, and Grove Hall branches received additional seating, shade, lighting and cooling facilities, while for the first time, a Long Term Device Lending program rolled out to target the unmet digital needs of vulnerable and eligible library patrons by distributing Chromebooks and WiFi devices through the Boston Housing Authority's communities.

Bringing equity to the forefront

This year, the BPL welcomed Roudnie Celestin, its first-ever Equity Program Officer, a new position created to help the BPL fulfill its mission of becoming a more equitable and anti-racist institution. The BPL's Equity Program Officer's role is to make the BPL's racial equity statement actionable, primarily through leading eight working groups across the organization. These groups will work on issues including professional development; recruiting & hiring; internal communications; and collaborative, transparent decision making. In addition, the Chief of Communications and Chief of Adult Services have convened a new working group to ensure that the BPL is in compliance with all City of Boston policies and processes around ensuring equitable access to services and programs for English Language Learners.

Improving our services and presence through capital projects

Opening of the Roslindale Branch – Mayor Michelle Wu and the Boston Public Library celebrated the renovation of the Roslindale branch of the BPL. The branch underwent an $11.7 million, 14,855 square foot renovation that began in October, 2019.

Opening of the Adams Street Branch – The new Adams Street branch of the Boston Public Library opened in July. The programming, design, and construction of the $18.3 million reconstruction project was managed by the City of Boston's Public Facilities Department, with consultation from the Mayor's Office of Arts & Culture, architecture firm NADAAA, and J&J Contractors, Inc.

McKim Master Plan complete – Thanks to an investment of $800,000 from the City of Boston's Capital plan, the BPL was able to undertake a master planning project in partnership with the City of Boston's Public Facilities Department and Operations Cabinet, along with architecture firms Shepley Bulfinch and designLAB. The project was designed to explore how the BPL can improve access and performance within the building while providing opportunities for education, interpretation, and engagement. The plan also included an evaluation of the existing building systems, art and architecture conditions, special collections, back-of-house operations, public interfaces, exterior façade, and issues of accessibility in order to uncover opportunities for improvement.

Boston Public Library
Collections Security Policy (DRAFT)
Revised May 4, 2022

INTRODUCTION/PURPOSE OF POLICY

The Boston Public Library holds extensive research and special collections reflecting a wide diversity of subjects, cultures, countries, and languages. Although most resources are print-based (books, periodicals, newspapers, and documents), significant collections in other formats include manuscripts, photographs, archives, prints, fine art, audiovisual materials, maps, architectural drawings, sheet music, sculpture, digital content, and other objects.

All BPL research and special collections are held in the public trust. As a public library, we commit to providing free, open and equitable access, and we work to encourage use and discovery. We recognize that there is an inherent tension between access and long-term security and preservation.

This Collection Security Policy outlines a framework for the security of research and special collections that focuses on creating and maintaining an environment in which these materials are protected, carefully handled, and returned intact to the collection for use by future patrons. The framework relies on a library-wide culture of responsibility for collections security. All staff members share responsibility in reporting incidents and observations related to collection security. Everyone—regardless of position, rank, title, or status—is responsible for compliance with the policies and procedures that are designed to protect the collection, visitors, and staff.

In support of the Library's mission, this policy and the procedures that stem from it prioritize public use of collections, and all collections security procedures will be governed by the Library's ongoing work related to diversity, equity, and inclusion. In planning and drafting this policy, we have relied on standards such as the Association of Research Libraries' code of ethics and the ACRL/RBMS Guidelines Regarding Security and Theft in Special Collections to ensure we are following ethical and equitable best practices and standards.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR COLLECTIONS SECURITY

The Library's leadership is responsible for all aspects of collections security. The strategic and procedural oversight of collections security is led by the Collections Security Team (CST). Members of the CST are designated by the Library President and include relevant managers that oversee collections, security, and technology functions.

The CST is responsible for writing and implementing procedures and reviewing and auditing enforcement, effectiveness, and compliance. Members of the CST manage responses to incidents related to collections security and will keep leadership apprised on a regular basis.

The CST also reviews the Library's emergency response plans and provides direction on procedures that pertain to collections security.

For this policy to be effective, there needs to be a widespread understanding across all Library departments of the importance of collections security. To this end, the Library is responsible for making employees aware of and providing training on collections security policies and procedures. Staff are responsible for the implementation and execution of policies and procedures developed by the Library and the CST.

INSTITUTIONAL COMMITMENT

The Library commits to allocating resources, routine auditing and maintenance of existing technologies, and exploring and implementing new solutions to deliver the level of collections security outlined in this policy.

The library is responsible for the upkeep of all security infrastructure. Security infrastructure throughout the system is serviced routinely as a procedure to verify adequate function. The Collections Security Team is responsible for reviewing this policy every two years and updating as needed.

SECURITY OF DIGITAL COLLECTIONS

In addition to physical holdings, collections security applies to digital collections materials in the Library's care. It also pertains to metadata about library collections stored in digital form. The security of digital files and records relies on designated levels of access—including the ability to upload, download, and edit files or metadata—as well as clearly defined roles and appropriate privileges for staff or patrons.

The CST will work in an advisory capacity with stakeholders, relevant library departments, and the Information Technology team to provide guidance on security-related procedures, including maintaining backups and preservation copies of digital assets; periodic auditing of files and records; establishing criteria for evaluating vendor security practices; and the protection of the library's networks, servers, applications, and other infrastructure components related to the management of digital assets from unauthorized access.

ACCESS TO COLLECTIONS AND SPACES

Collections are found in both public and staff-only spaces. Access may be limited based on the way the space is used: for example, offices and collections storage areas are accessible only to staff. Access may also be limited by day and time: for example, patrons can access public spaces during normal operating hours or during events.

The Library relies on defined levels of access to spaces for security. The CST works with stakeholders to determine access levels to each space. Physical and/or electronic access to spaces is assigned accordingly. The Library performs audits and updates permissions with staffing changes.

The CST consults stakeholders to establish guidelines for patron use of special collections. The Library's goal is free, open, and equitable access. Alternate modes of access may be offered based on preservation or security concerns.

Patrons will be notified of any relevant security guidelines, identification requirements, on-site surveillance practices, and data retention policies.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS DATA RETENTION AND PRIVACY

The Library's collections security program relies on the systematic retention and maintenance of personal information. With respect to special collections, personal information may include usage data and surveillance footage. Usage data includes information that identifies materials requested by specific patrons and information about when and how such materials were used. Personal information necessary to identify specific patrons, including names, addresses, and photographs may also be retained. Requirements for the retention of security-related data are established by the CST in consultation with the IT Department and with any other relevant departments. The Library may keep records on personal information and usage data related to special collections in perpetuity. The Library is committed to patron privacy and will not share data with a third party unless required by law and/or in response to a security incident.

RESPONSES TO SECURITY EVENTS

It is the responsibility of all BPL staff members, contractors, and affiliates to follow established procedures to report incidents, observations, or concerns related to collection security in a timely manner. The Collections Security Team (CST) will review and document each incident or report with the immediate goal of securing the particular item or collection in question.

When incidents occur or when reports are received, the Library will immediately notify stakeholders, investigate incidents, and document findings. The Library will utilize all available resources as appropriate, including legal action, and work with partners, stakeholders, and authorities in their efforts to secure or recover the collections under review. The CST will provide recommendations, guidance, and support to library leadership when incidents occur.

The Honorable Michelle Wu
Mayor of the City of Boston
One City Hall Plaza
Boston, MA 02201

Dear Mayor Wu:

I respectfully request your Honor's approval to award a contract, without public advertisement, pursuant to the authority of Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 30B, S.7, to the vendors listed herein for the period July 1, 2022 through June 30, 2023.

Under the terms of this multi-vendor contract, various suppliers will provide library materials, as may be requested from time to time by a designated representative of the Boston Public Library.

The following list represents vendors of library materials from which the Boston Public Library may make purchases, in the aggregate, in excess of $35,000.00. The Boston Public Library has approximately 200 other vendors from which it purchases books where the total annual procurement will not reach or exceed $35,000.00. This award request is for a one-year period. Because the Library purchases materials on an as needed basis, a multi-vendor contract is the only practicable method by which it can procure the requisite supplies.

To the Trustees of the Boston Public Library,

We are writing to request that the memory of Jairam Rodrigues Rao be honored by naming the Children's room at the Faneuil Branch Library: JaiJai's Room.

The Board of the Friends of the Faneuil Branch Library makes this recommendation via a unanimous Board vote in favor that was taken at the Friends Board Meeting on December 21st, 2021.

Jairam Rodrigues Rao and his family have been devoted patrons and supporters of the Faneuil Branch Library for decades. The parents and their 4 children could be found on the library premises almost daily and participated in nearly all library programs, parades, workshops, parties and fundraisers. His mother was on the Friend's board for years and served as President.

A passionate, intelligent activist at the age of 8, Jairam stood up and raised his voice to help keep open his beloved neighborhood Faneuil Branch Library. His advocacy remained strong for a variety of causes throughout his life - most recently becoming a fierce advocate for the environment.

Jairam tirelessly volunteered to support our library's biggest fundraiser, the Funky Auction. In fact, at this annual event, the Rodrigues Rao family are often the most generous volunteers and donors, donating countless hours and bidding handsomely year after year.

Tragically, Jairam suffered a fatal accident in 2019 at age 17. The entire neighborhood remains devastated by the loss of this bright and beautiful light among us. His spirit lives on in our neighborhood and in the Faneuil Branch Library, where he, his friends and family found joy and a sense of community.

Jairam carried with him a special light and free spirit. His smile and very presence welcomed all with open arms. It is our hope that this very spirit, his spirit, will be felt by all who pass through the doors of the Children's Room. It is our hope that the Trustees will vote to honor Jairam Rodrigues Rao by naming it JaiJai's Room.

Sincerely,
